

girl i dont know a melody, and i am not good with words sometimes i just say anything and hope that it would work see i could prolly sing for you even tho my singings bad and i could tell you ill be here until my last breath and i can tell you how you look when you give that pretty smile the way your eyes light up the dark, like moonlight in the night the way your lips feel like a home, the way your hair fall on your shoulders i could list a million thing away but these are just words, they dont do justice to you and i remember the day that my heart finally knew that you are the one that i wanna spend every hour every day just lend me your ear, theres one thing i just wanna say girl ill die a happy man, oh ill die a happy man if i knew that you were by my side so i could look you in the eyes girl i can spend all my life like this and you dont even have to care about me just let me be around you just let me be there when you cry to tell you its alright to hold you close to me to wipe the tears off from your eyes cause that is all i want want to do in this life i want you to be mine for no one else to find only my hands in yours only your lips on mine only my eyes on your and no one elses eyes girl this is what i want i want you in my life i want you all to me and no one elses yeah

i want you on my mind and i want all your time tell me is it alright

if i ask you to be mine so will you be the melody to my songs and even tho my singings bad will your cheer along and when i have nothing to say tell me darling will you still stay cause i think i am falling for you and i dont want no one to catch me today i wanna keep feeling this way girl i have just one more thing to say ill live a happy man, girl ill live a happy man if i know that you are by my side and i can call you mine and that is all i want in this life
